API Regional Project Culminating Event on
“In Search of New Practices: Common Challenges to Human-Ecological Balance in Asia”

The poster features the API Fellowships Program logo and text: "API Fellowships Program cordially invites you to Regional Project Culminating Event www.api-fellowships.org/apievent2012.php". It includes a collage of images showing people in various settings, a yellow circle with the event title, and a list of activities: Seminar, Exhibition, Art Performance, and Documentary Premiere. The event is scheduled for June 14-15, 2012, at Mahachulalongkorn Bldg., Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok. Logos of partner organizations are shown at the bottom.

June 14-15, 2012.
9.00-10.30 hrs.

Maha Chulalongkorn Building, Chulalongkorn University

On behalf of the Asian Public Intellectuals Fellowships Program (API), I am delighted to extend my invitation to you to the API Regional Project Culminating Event on “In Search of New Practices: Common Challenges to Human-Ecological Balance in Asia” at Mahachulalongkorn Building, Chulalongkorn University on June 14-15, 2012.

The Culminating Event is to celebrate the completion of the 3-year API Regional Project, which sought to foster greater regional consciousness by promoting relationships among cultures and engaging in collaborative activities. The Project focused on the responses of local communities to environmental challenges relating to the four areas of forest degradation, water quality, urban environment and marine coastal ecology in five targeted sites of participating countries, namely Biwa-ko in Japan, Batanes in the Philippines, Kali Code in Indonesia, Tasik Chini in Malaysia and Khiriwong in Nakhon Si Thammarat, Thailand. Important insights and findings of the API Regional Project will be shared among participants and stakeholders.

The Culminating Event on June 14-15 consists of various exciting public activities, namely, Exhibition, country exhibits of display & sellable items, art performances, seminar and the premier screening of the documentary “Cross Currents: Journey to Asian Environment”. More details can be found in the enclosed program and website <http://www.api-fellowships.org/apievent2012.php>.
